U. S. CHEERS "GIRL LINDY"

Today
Enjoy a Car Now.
A Large Red Bull.
A Monkey House League.
Selfishness, a Power.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE
(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review.)

IN big cities hundreds of thousands went for their holiday in automobiles. A philosopher said, "Most of the cars are not paid for. In thousands of cases they represent money that might have meant independence in old age."

THE automobiles represent money spent for health, pleasure and time saving NOW. Not one in ten is really independent in old age, nor was he before automobiles came.

Better buy a car, enjoy it, and use the added health and time saved to work for independence. No car, wisely used, ever made a man poor.

IT is hard to keep prices up when goods are plentiful. That applies to a merchandise called "money."

Big boys, seeking to check stock gambling among little boys, put call money up to 10 per cent. immediately, money poured into Wall Street from the West, New England and Europe, and the rate dropped to 5 per cent.

The New York Clearing House broke all records on Tuesday, with clearings of two thousand, four hundred and thirteen millions. We have lots of money.

BIG men say brokers' loans must drop $30,000,000 more to make things safe, which is childish.

In proportion to total values brokers' loans are not high. They are lower, proportionately, than in any other line of business.

The so-called big men are really little men, as you realize when you meet any of them, and they can't get used to the bigger figures that came after the war.

P. S.—If you are short of stocks—which is always foolish, look out for a large red bull that may cross your path. He's not far away.

Bolshevism gave peasants the land, taking it from worthless nobles. Russia suited the peasants.

Then Bolshevism told the peasants how much they might charge for their crops, how much they must bring to the cities, etc. That did not suit the peasants. They cut down wheat acreage, causing dangerous shortages, and Russia is looking everywhere for cash wheat, with immediate delivery, and ships to carry it.

You cannot safely interfere with man's most important mainspring, which is SELFISHNESS.

HOPE springs eternal. And, fortunately for human beings, a majority of us, "listen with credulity to the whispers of fancy, and pursue with eagerness the phantoms of hope; expect that age will perform the promises of youth, and that the deficiencies of the present day will be supplied by the morrow."

In Reno, Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., recently divorced, married a charming lady, divorced the day before.

POLISH air pilots strike for higher wages, first strike of that kind in history. It is hard to realize that fliers will some day be more numerous than railroad conductors.

LABOR LEADER PAYS VISIT TO CERAMIC MEN IN CONVENTION

Vice-president of American Federation is Guest.

SPEAKS FOR HOUR

Tariff Question is Discussed at Morning Session.

Matthew Woll, Chicago, vice-president of the American Federation of Labor and president of the Union Labor Life Insurance company, was a guest of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters at this morning's session of the thirty-eighth annual convention in the Pottery hall, West Sixth street.

Visits Here Enroute From Texas. Woll visited here enroute to New York from the Democratic national convention held in Houston last week. He advised officers of the brotherhood a few days ago that he would probably reach East Liverpool on Saturday and arrived a day earlier.

He spoke for more than an hour at the forenoon session. He landed the brotherhood and thanked officers of the organization for their hearty cooperation with the American Federation. Woll also discussed the tariff question and the movement on the part of the Brotherhood in seeking a hearing before the federal commission. He also touched upon the group insurance plan for workers of organized crafts. The convention adjourned for lunch at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon. Woll was expected to leave here this afternoon.

Dance at Park Tonight. The convention will resume its business session this afternoon, consisting of a group of delegates from the Homer Laughlin China company, Newell, yesterday afternoon and last night were guests of the brotherhood officers at the Ceramic theater.

Tonight they will be entertained with a dance at Virginia Gardens, Rock Springs park. Many potters of the local district are expected to attend. Music will be in charge of the DeMar Miller orchestra.

Business sessions will be resumed tomorrow morning. The convention will adjourn at noon to permit delegates to attend an outing planned in their honor at Sevakene lake, near Damascus, by Sebring potters. The visitors will be taken to Sebring in automobiles and after brief ceremonies in the town, during which S. H. Pollock, superintendent of the Sebring schools, will deliver the address of welcome, they will be taken to the picnic grounds.

Indications this morning were that the convention would not end before Wednesday.

MABEL BOLL WILL HOP TO AMERICA

PLYMOUTH, Eng., July 6.—Mabel Boll, whose ambition to be the first woman to fly from America to Europe was frustrated by Miss Amelia Earhart, arrived from New York today, declaring she would fly back.

"I am either going to fly to America or swim," said the aviator.

SALESMAN HELD ON CHECK CHARGE

E. E. Parson, Chicago salesman, is awaiting a hearing before Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley tomorrow morning on a charge of passing a worthless check for $34 on Adolph Joseph, after purchasing a suit of clothes and a straw hat. Parson was arrested by Patrolman Leslie Curran.

LOST DOG HELD AT CITY HALL

Chief of Police McDermott is attempting to locate the owner of a police dog which is held at the city hall. The dog, tired and hungry, has the color of a gray wolf and wears a brass-studded collar. There is no name or license tag on the collar.

WEALTHY CHICAGO "SPHINX" DIES

CHICAGO, July 6.—Adolph J. Lichstein, one of the picturesque characters of the Chicago Board of Trade, millionaire, "man of mystery," and known as the "sphinx" on the board, died here today following a paralytic stroke two weeks ago.

ROME-BRAZIL FLIERS LAND IN COAST CITY

Ocean Airmen Forced Down at Touros by Fog.

BOTH MEN SAFE

Set Long Distance Record in Hop of 4,600 Miles.

RIO DE JANEIRO, July 6.—After being reported "lost" for hours, word was received here today that the record-breaking Italian aviators, Capt. Arturo Ferrarin and Major Carlo del Prete landed at Touros, on the Brazilian coast, near Capao Roque, at 10:10 o'clock last night, Brazilian time. Governor Lamartine, of the state of Rio de Norte, telegraphed that the fliers were safe and had spent the night at Touros.

Owing to the inability of radio stations to get in touch with the airmen, it had been assumed at first that they spent hours flying over the coast in storm and fog before landing.

First Landing at Natal. Ferrarin and Del Prete made their first landing on the Beach 10 miles north of Natal at 7:50 last night (local time) completing their 4,600-mile (Continued On Page Six, Col. One)

MISS HUGHES, ILL WEEK, DIES

Funeral Services Will be Held on Monday.

Miss Catherine A. Hughes, of 426 Vine street, died last night in the City hospital following an operation which she underwent a week ago.

Miss Hughes was a daughter of the late Albert S. and Anna B. Hughes. Her father was one of the founders and for many years president of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters.

She leaves one brother, J. V. Hughes, and two sisters, Mrs. Charles R. Tock, Toronto, and Eva M. Hughes, East Liverpool.

Funeral services will be held Monday morning at 9 o'clock in the St. Aloysius Catholic church, in charge of the Rev. Father Thomas E. Walsh. Burial will be made in Lake park cemetery.

HINT FIENDISH CRIMES SOLVED AS TOLEDOAN ADMITS MURDER

Charles Hoppe Pleads Guilty in Killing of Girl.

CLAIMS INSANITY

Trial Suddenly Ends as Defense Witnesses Wait.

TOLEDO, O., July 6.—Charles (Stanley) Hoppe, 26, who pleaded guilty in common pleas court here this morning to murder in the first degree in connection with the criminal assault and slaying of 7-year-old Dorothy Sielagowski, then entered a motion, through his attorney, Larry Bevan, for an examination into his sanity, today went before a tribunal composed of Common Pleas Judges Charles M. Milroy, James Martin, and Judge James Austin who will hear testimony of all witnesses and witnesses which, it was believed, will clear up the mysterious slayings of women and girls in and around Toledo during the last few years.

Expect New Confession. All indications, according to court room observers, pointed to a new confession being made by Hoppe during the hearing of testimony by which Hoppe's attorneys hope to prove him insane and save him from the electric chair.

Defense Witnesses in Court

TOLEDO, O., July 6.—Charles (Stanley) Hoppe, 26, pleaded guilty to first degree murder in connection with the death of 7-year-old Dorothy Sielagowski, soon after court opened here today to resume the seventh day of the murder trial.

Defense witnesses were to have been heard for the first time this morning, but instead, Hoppe's attorney, Larry Bevan, entered a plea of guilty for his client, and asked for an insanity hearing. Judge Milroy is considering the application.

Hoppe was placed on trial here on June 25, in common pleas court, under an indictment of first degree murder returned by the grand jury which examined evidence presented by County Prosecutor Leroy W. Hunt, to the effect that the accused man had stolen the little girl, cousin of his wife, from her bed, criminally assaulted, and then strangled her, on the morning of May 29, last.

Bevan arose from his seat at the defense table, soon after court convened, and entered Hoppe's plea, as follows:

"Your honor, I wish to enter a plea of guilty to first degree murder for this defendant." Then, turning to Hoppe, Bevan said, "Do you realize, Hoppe, that in changing your plea to guilty you are throwing yourself up on the mercy of the court and that it may mean your being sentenced to the electric chair?" Hoppe weakly nodded assent.

After making the plea of guilty, Bevan moved the court permit an examination into Hoppe's sanity.

The agreement to enter the guilty plea was made July Fourth, in a conference attended by Hoppe, his wife, and defense attorneys.

Bevan said today that following the conference with Hoppe he believed it would be possible to solve many equally important murders similar to that of the Sielagowski girl, in and around Toledo in the last few years and that the solution of these would strengthen his claim that Hoppe was insane.

Bevan appeared before Judge Milroy here yesterday and admitted that his (Continued On Page Six, Col. Two)

"GIRL LINDY" WELCOMED HOME

New York City today extended a hearty welcome to America's first trans-Atlantic air passenger, for so Miss Amelia Earhart described herself in interviews with reporters at Southampton. Boston's plucky girl-flier gave all the credit for the flight from Trepassy, N. F., to Barry Point, Wales, to her two male companions, Wilmer Stultz and Lou Gordon. Here she is with a bouquet presented to her upon arriving at Southampton.

Let Patterson Sport Field Grading Work

Peter Milliron, Bidding $6,000, is Awarded Contract by Board of Education.

Contract for the grading and excavation work of the first unit of the proposed improvements to the Patterson athletic field, was awarded to Peter Milliron by the board of education last night.

Milliron's bid was approximately $6,000, which, according to the tabulation of J. R. Daugherty, school board engineer, and City Engineer Floyd Clapsaddle, is about $325 less than that submitted by the D. F. Nellis & Sons company, the only other bidder.

Milliron's proposal provides for the construction of the drainage structures and the grading of the football field which occupies the southwest corner of the West Eighth street acreage. Member J. T. Croxall voted against the award, expressing the opinion that the culvert under the railroad should first be completed before the drainage system was undertaken.

AWAIT COUNCIL ACTION

Construction of the proposed culvert as a means of draining the field is being held up pending action by city council. Daugherty has estimated the culvert to cost $5,000 if the city joins in and $3,000 if a smaller sewer is laid. The city's share in the proposed sewer has been placed at $2,000. Daugherty promised to have council's answer on the offer at the next meeting of the board.

When the first unit of the improvement has been completed about $14,000 will have been expended. This figure includes $4,000 which was set aside by the old board for fencing the tract. Shipment of the fence is being delayed pending survey of the field. (Continued On Page Six, Col. Two)

NAB MOTOR CAR THEFT SUSPECT

Albert Wolfe Held in Baltimore for Job Here.

Chief of Police Hugh McDermott and Sheriff George Wright left today for Baltimore, where they will take Albert Wolfe, Washington, Pa., man, into custody for the alleged theft of an automobile.

They were accompanied by Norman Hamilton, Huston avenue, whose motor car Wolfe is said to have taken while it was parked in East Fifth street last Monday night. The suspect, picked up in Baltimore yesterday, is reported to have admitted that the automobile which he was driving had been stolen.

Wolfe, it is said, will return to Columbiana county without extra papers.

MISS EARHART AND STULTZ AND GORDON RETURN FROM SEA HOP

"Welcome, Amelia," New York Greeting to Fliers.

HEROINE BLUSHES

Boston Settlement Worker First Woman to Span Ocean.

By James L. Kilgallen.

NEW YORK, July 6.—Miss Amelia Earhart, the tall, slim Boston settlement worker who was the first woman to fly across the Atlantic in an airplane and her two companions on the dramatic adventure, Wilmer Stultz, pilot, and Louis Gordon, mechanic, returned today in triumph to their native country and were warmly welcomed by the city of New York.

Whalen Welcomes Fliers. "Welcome, Amelia," was the greeting shouted from the windows of skyscrapers as the fliers were escorted by blaring bands up Broadway after they had been taken off the liner President Roosevelt which came in from Southampton, England, this morning. The blond, brown-skinned Amelia, who bears a striking resemblance to Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh and who has been referred to as "The Girl Lindy" blushed profusely time and again as she acknowledged the tributes with a wave of her hand.

With bands playing, Grover Whalen, silk hat and all, officially welcomed Miss Earhart and her companions as the Macon, posed against the liner President Roosevelt at quarantine. Whalen was accompanied by other city dignitaries, and there were present, too, a group of friends from Boston, a reception committee from Chicago (she is a graduate of the Hyde Park high school of Chicago), and a committee of citizens from Williamsburg, Pa., the home of Stultz.

Stultz's Wife, Mother Present. Pilot Stultz's wife and his mother, Mrs. Clara Stultz, of Williamsburg, were present, as was Miss Anne Bruce, the blue-eyed, brown-haired fiancée of Gordon. The two men fliers were greeted with hugs and kisses.

It was three weeks ago, then, practically unknown, that Miss Earhart hopped off from Newfoundland in the Fokker monoplane, Friendship, and flying through blinding mists, fog and rain landed in Wales. She had flown in the first seaplane that ever made a non-stop flight to Europe. Three women had lost their lives trying to span the ocean.

Miss Earhart said she would like to promote light plane clubs and flying by women.

"Women haven't had the chance men have had in aviation," she declared. "For one thing they couldn't join the army and learn to fly for nothing. I believe that women, in the event of a war, would play an important part as aviators. However, I do not think that aviation holds promise as a career for women—not as yet."

She confided that she thought she would write a book. She said that on the way over on the flight she was in "a high pitch of excitement." But she "never really was afraid." It wasn't very comfortable, especially when the gas ran very low and they hadn't sighted any land.

Commander Byrd Greets Party. Commander Richard E. Byrd, himself a noted trans-Atlantic flier, was among those who went down the bay to greet the fliers.

Arriving at the Battery Miss Earhart and her companions were escorted up Broadway to city hall, where they were introduced to the radio (Continued On Page Six, Col. One)

RESCUE FLIER ON ICE FLOE

Lieut. Lundborg Who Saved Noble, is Picked up.

OSLOW, Norway, July 6.—Lieut. Einar Lundborg, Swedish aviator who rescued Gen. Umberto Nobile, and then was himself marooned on the ice floe with the remaining members of the Nobile party, has been carried to safety, according to a radiogram from the steamship Quest today. The Quest has been anchored at Vigro Ray, Spitzbergen, while Gen. Nobile on board.

The rescue did not make whether Lundborg had been rescued by an airplane or had boarded a ship. The Quest was carrying a radio station and a searchlight, but was not able to reach the floe until late today.

HINT OHIOAN GIVEN "RIDE" IN LOVE TRIANGLE

Police Investigate Murder of John Emch in Toledo.

BODY IN THICKET

Bootleggers' Jealousy Back of Crime, is Theory.

TOLEDO, O., July 6.—Police investigating the murder of John Emch, 37, of Toledo, whose decomposed body was found Wednesday afternoon in a thicket on the Bay Shore drive here, expressed the theory today that the man may have met his death as the result of attentions paid to a woman member of a bootlegging gang. A divorce petition was filed on Sept. 1, 1927, by Emch's wife, claiming that Emch had given much of his time and attention "as well as his earnings" to women other than his wife. A cryptic note, written in pencil on the back of a card, believed to be in a woman's handwriting, stated that "an experience with the Volstead law took place here with Jack Miller," on which the theory was based that Emch had been "taken for a ride" by bootleggers whose jealousy he had incurred as the result of a love affair with one of their women.

19 CARS PILE UP IN TRAIN WRECKS

NEVADA, O., July 6.—Train service on the main line of the Pennsylvania railroad in Wyandot county was disrupted today as result of a wreck near here when 19 cars of a freight train left the rails, tearing up both tracks.

SOCIALIST SEEKS GOVERNOR PLACE

CLEVELAND, July 6.—Joseph W. Sharts, Dayton attorney, was in Cleveland today planning his third campaign as a Socialist candidate for governor. He arrived Thursday to confer with officials of the party at headquarters here. Following a three-day speaking tour of Cleveland, he planned to go to Toledo.

BURGLAR LOOTS ABSENT TOLEDO JUDGE'S HOME TO "EVEN SCORE"

TOLEDO, O., July 6.—There may be "honor among thieves" but when it comes to police court judges, burglars just naturally let their impulses run rampant—at least, that is the impression Police Judge Homer Ramey is due to receive when he returns from a pleasant (thus far) vacation away from the onerous duties of the bench.

An open window, at the judge's home here, showing unmistakable signs of having been "jimmied," aroused suspicions of an observant mailman and investigation disclosed that the house had been entered and ransacked in a leisurely manner, many articles of value having been carried off.

Police believe the burglary was the result of resentment engendered in the breast of a burglar whose sensitive feelings his honor may have inadvertently wounded.

CORONER HARRY C. MC CARTER RULES IN FATAL SHOOTING AT MIDLAND

Joseph Gerkovich, Mill Worker, Ended Own Life, is Verdict After Investigation.

MIDLAND, July 6.—Coroner Harry C. McCarter, Beaver Falls, gave a verdict of self-inflicted wounds in the case of Joseph Gerkovich, 20, Serbian mill worker, who died at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon in Rochester General hospital.

Gerkovich shot himself three times with a .38 caliber revolver in his home at 357 Penn avenue and then hid the gun, according to police who investigated the shooting. Police declared that Gerkovich was despondent because his wife left him.

Police denied that Gerkovich reported being awakened and shot by an intruder.

Arrangements to hold Gerkovich's funeral either in Beaver or Pittsburgh were being made today. He left no relatives in Midland.

Michael Vrodivich, 34, of Orchard lane, who accidentally shot himself in the right ankle earlier Wednesday night, was reported improved at Rochester hospital.

Independence Day Toll

With reports incomplete, more than 205 men, women and children lost their lives in celebration of Independence day, according to press checkups yesterday.

At least 15 deaths, mostly children, were caused by fireworks, in cities which have not prohibited this hazardous and noisy means of observing the birthday of the nation. Other lives were exacted by drownings and heat, while additions were made to the list by the rapidly mounting traffic accidents.

Seven Wellsville persons, six in the city proper and another in Arroyo, W. Va., across the Ohio river, were among the hundreds injured. The causes ranged from accidental discharge of firearms to the reckless use of explosives. Many persons were disfigured, others suffered less serious burns.

In East Liverpool, which for the first time prohibited the sale as well as the use of fireworks, not one accident was attributed to pyrotechnics. One drowning occurred here, while a boy was injured in a fall.

This encouraging situation so far as the Ceramic City is concerned is a strong argument for the enactment of prohibitory legislation on the fireworks question in other cities. Last year 200 deaths and 3,180 injuries were reported in the country. This year, reports so far indicate the toll will be reduced as a result of the ban on the sale of explosives. Perhaps the day is not far distant when every village, town and village will discard the old-fashioned method of each family having its own little party and co-operate in the safer and saner community celebration.

Ohio G. O. P. Platform

Ohio Republicans go before voters this fall with a platform which merits approval. It is a platform which will be far-reaching in its benefits, if the voters send to the state house and the governor's mansion men who are pledged to carry out its promises.

Economy in state expenditures, yet a treasury which is not hamstrung so that public improvements are hampered; conservation of the state's natural resources; a state highway department operated as a business administration; enforcement of all laws, without fear or favor; a rural police force for protection of the rural residents of the state; equalization of the tax burden in the several political subdivisions; a wide-spread aviation program under state and federal control; agricultural relief in keeping with whatever method of relief the national government may determine; improvement in the workmen's compensation law; assistance for labor, and a better public welfare policy—these are the important planks in the Republican platform.

Given a Republican general assembly, a Republican governor who will surround himself with competent business men as heads of the several state departments, and Ohio will return almost over night to that ideal condition which prevailed in past years when the ship of state was piloted by men of the type of Major McKinley.

The time has come when Ohio Republicans must call a halt on dilly-dallying in state politics. Ohio Republicans have a golden opportunity this fall, almost without regard to the man who may be the state choice for governor on the Republican ticket. With Hoover and Curtis leading the national ticket—men behind whom everyone can unite—there should be no question at all about the outcome in the state.

Harmony must be the keynote. When the voters go to the polls next month to select their gubernatorial candidate, let the Republicans, when the ballot counting is over and the victor is known forget their differences of opinion and get together for the common cause. The same must be true where the senatorial controversy is concerned.

And with a platform like the convention adopted at Kansas City, fortified by the platform which the Ohio Republicans have placed before the people, there should be no concern about the outcome in November.

Hoover Acts Wisely

Herbert Hoover acted wisely in bringing to an end the controversy over the inscription to be placed on the new Louvain library, which was dedicated July 4, by sending a cablegram to Monsignor Ladeuze, rector of the library, giving full authority to the university.

It was the contention of the architect of the structure, Whitney Warren, that the inscription in Latin originally chosen, "Destroyed by German Fury, Restored by American Generosity," should be used. The university authorities held that this would but serve to keep alive the hatreds of the war. So heated became the controversy that students and citizens friendly to the views of the architect destroyed a number of the pillars of the balcony which Monsignor Ladeuze had in readiness to supplant the balcony bearing the inscription following the designs of the architect.

"Representing the donors of a large share of the funds employed in building the library," Mr. Hoover, who is still the head of the Belgian relief committee and one of the largest donors to the library, cabled Monsignor Ladeuze, "I suggest you obtain immediate settlement of the present controversy on lines eliminating war bitterness, reflecting the true spirit of the great educational institution and being in accord with mature public opinion."

The immediate result of the cable was the departure of Architect Warren for Italy, leaving the college head in charge, thus ending the controversy which led to the disgraceful acts of vandalism related—a solution which must be welcome to Americans generally and especially to the contributors to the library building fund who, by the opposed inscription, were placed in the attitude of patting themselves on the back.

Pick your World's classic contenders. If the dopesters are right, major baseball league standings on the day after the Fourth of July generally determine the pennant winners.

The automobile and fireworks had an exciting race for the top place in the holiday casualty list, but the motor car, with recklessness at the wheel, won.

Judging from newspaper headlines, it was not a safe and sane Fourth.

HASKIN DAILY LETTER

By Frederick J. Haskin

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 6.—Weary of seeing their sisters throughout the country victimized by blue sky stock salesmen and other get-rich-quick schemes, a group of women, prominent in business and club life, have organized the National committee for the education of women in financial matters.

For many years efforts have been made to obtain enactment of a federal blue sky law but, to date, no very effective legislation of the sort has been passed. Several members of congress have introduced bills, and some protective legislation has been passed but there is no real blue sky law with teeth in it as yet. The federal trade commission is enabled, under existing law, to stop certain practices of this nature but the machinery of the commission is such that it rarely can act except on complaint and the swindled person seldom complains because he becomes ashamed to reveal his own gullibility.

Figures compiled by the newly organized committee of women show that of the $700,000,000 paid for worthless or nearly worthless stocks in 1927, women paid or contracted for 65 per cent.

Mrs. Bessie Q. Mott of New York, who is chairman of the committee, declares that the reason for this is not that women are innately more credulous or stupid than men but that they merely lack financial experience. For ages men have had the handling of most of the world's money and have built up a fund of experience which enables them to cope to some extent with fake business propositions. The women who are experienced in finance, however, are inclined to laugh in their sleeves at the men because, in spite of their experience and vaunted business acumen they still are victimized to the extent of 35 per cent of the fake promoters' schemes.

The committee claims to have ascertained by actual investigation that fake companies who want to sell a piece of the blue sky to any one who will buy regard women as their special victims. They employ and pay high commissions to sleek, well-groomed, high pressure salesmen whose instructions are to attempt making sales of stocks to the housewife, to the widow left with a small competence, or to the struggling stenographer or clerk. It is claimed that so-called sucker-lists contain the names of more women than men.

Here, again, the committee holds, women are placed at a disadvantage. Perhaps, it is stated, if the number of women solicited were not greater than the number of men, the 65 per cent figure would be altered.

In the knowledge of these and a host of other facts of absorbing interest, the committee will strongly favor effective federal legislation to curb blue sky sales but will work chiefly in the education of the women themselves. While the headquarters of the committee will be in New York City, branch offices will be established in various cities throughout the country. Women's clubs will be asked to cooperate in the work as well as women's colleges. Already, the committee is receiving dozens of requests from clubs and colleges for lectures to be delivered by some member of the committee. Also, many written requests for advice on financial matters are reaching the organization.

The committee will encourage banks of reputable standing to offer their services to women desiring to invest, advising them as to the worth of securities offered them. Many large and small financial institutions are doing this now.

About eighty-five per cent of the national payroll today is spent by the women of the country. While this figure is amazing it must be remembered that, for all classes of people, the nation's food bill is the largest single expenditure.

Questions And Answers

B. Frederic J. Haskin.

Have we had the pleasure of serving you through our Washington Information Bureau? Can't we be of some help to you in your daily problems? Our business is to furnish you with authoritative information, and we invite you to ask us any question of fact in which you are interested. Send your inquiry to the East Liverpool Review Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C. Enclose two cents in coin or stamps for return postage.

Q. What is the salary of a director in the movies? G. F. A. The Motion Picture Magazine says that the average director receives a salary of about $2000 a week.

Q. What is international pitch? V. E. A. International pitch is the one adopted by the Vienna Congress in November, 1887. It had been adopted in France in 1859. Previous to the Vienna Congress, held for choosing a standard pitch, there had been great confusion, due to the variety of pitches used. International pitch has 435 double vibrations a second for the tone A. It is now the standard for the whole world.

Q. Does a private salute an English sergeant major? S. B. G.

A. According to Paragraph 503 of the King's Regulations issued in 1923, non-commissioned officers and men will address warrant officers Classes I and 2 in the same manner as they do officers, but will not salute them. A sergeant major is a warrant officer.

Q. How do almonds grow? M. J. S.

A. The almond is the stone or kernel of the fruit of the almond tree. The fruit is a drupe with a thin, hard covering, which splits open when ripe.

Q. When were the iron gates west of the White House erected? V. E. W.

A. The office of public buildings and grounds says that the gates on Pennsylvania avenue, at Jackson place, between the white house grounds and the state, war, and navy building, were put there during Grant's administration between 1870 and 1874. This land was originally the white house grounds. The gates were placed there to shut off that road as a public thoroughfare at night. These gates were removed because they had served their purpose and were to some extent an obstruction to traffic.

Q. Where can a text book be acquired for learning to be a Western Union telegraph operator? O. B. C.

A. The Western Union Telegraph Company informs us that the use of the Morse system is dying out and that for the automatic system no text book has been prepared. In all large cities the Western Union maintains schools where prospective operators can learn the new process.

A. E. Q.—What can be done for an oily skin, enlarged pores and scars left by pimples?

A.—Proper diet and elimination will help the condition of the skin. Hot and cold compresses applied alternately for five or ten minutes daily should be helpful for the enlarged pores. In some instances the X-ray treatment is helpful for scars, if they are not too deep. This, of course, must be done by an expert, skilled in this kind of work.

It Makes a Difference.

When a Nicaraguan election gets away to a bad start, and a few disgruntled patriots are railroaded to prison or exile for being too active in behalf of popular suffrage, the world hears an outcry that reaches to the last model of democracy.

It is a different story when the same thing happens in Mexico. In that republic President Obregon has just received a triumphant election to another term by the simple expedient of overthrowing every group or class that has interest in an opposition ticket. The two rival candidates for the presidency who began the race most confidently and auspiciously, ended their earthly career in the morgue. The ensuing election of Obregon was by an acclamation which will serve as an example to all future political hell raisers in Mexico.

This triumph for a serene and tranquil manifest of popular sovereignty was really akin to the act of the ancient tyranny which by military force created a solitude and called it peace. The principle of democracy seems to be looking up. The Mexican vindication of it was nearly as great an advancement for that token of popular rule as that which the World War was achieved, when an effort which cost billions of treasure and millions of lives had made the world safer than ever for dictators.—Akron Beacon Journal.

Once Overs

By J. J. Mundy.

THERE'S A TIME AND PLACE.

Don't talk business and financial affairs at social gatherings.

Don't talk high finance with the man on a salary.

If you cannot get away from your business thoughts long enough to join in general conversation with the persons you meet in a social way, you would better cut out the social hour and stick to your office.

Most of those who take part in social affairs do so with an idea of relaxation.

They want to get away from the grinding thoughts of dollars and cents.

If they desired to continue their thoughts about margins and profits they would have remained in an environment of that sort.

There is a time and a place for everything.

The social gathering is certainly not the place to discuss business transactions.

You defeat your own purpose when you talk business at social gatherings. Copyright, 1928, International Feature Service, Inc.

Wellsville Man Hurt In Warren Accident

Emmet Densmore Cut and Bruised as Automobile Goes Over Embankment; Miss Irene Smith, Beaver Falls, Taken to Hospital.

Emmet Densmore, 29, Anderson avenue, was badly cut and bruised, a companion, Miss Irene Smith, of Beaver Falls, was seriously injured and two others, Mr. and Mrs. Sebring Sloane, of Warren, escaped with minor bruises when the automobile in which they were riding Wednesday crashed into a bridge abutment about six miles from Warren and then rolled over a 15-foot embankment.

The steering apparatus broke, it is said, as the car was going over the bridge.

Miss Smith sustained a fracture of the right leg and was hurt probably internally. She was taken to the Warren hospital. Densmore returned to his home here yesterday. The automobile, a sedan, was virtually demolished.

Densmore had been visiting with his sister, Mrs. Charles Voolhart, in Warren over the Fourth. The accident happened, however, as he, together with Miss Smith and the Sloanes were returning from Woodland park, near Warren, where they had spent the day.

Densmore and the girl, it is said, were pinned beneath the car.

RAIN PREVENTS RANDALL EVENTS

CLEVELAND, July 6.—Three of the events scheduled for Thursday on the Grand Circuit card at North Randall, including the feature "Tavern" trot—purchase $3,000, were to be raced today. Thursday's program was postponed on account of unfavorable track conditions which followed a heavy rain. The 2:14 pace, originally scheduled for yesterday, will be held over for Saturday, the last day of the meet, track officials said.

INVALID BOY IS RECLAIMED

Mother Takes Child Back to Home Near Empire.

Six-year-old invalid boy who was deposited unceremoniously Tuesday night in the keeping of Mrs. M. J. Bell, aged widow who lives near Fourteenth street, was reclaimed yesterday by his mother, Wellsville police announced today.

The mother, it is said, lives near Empire, and according to authorities, has been having domestic troubles. Her husband left her recently, according to authorities who investigated. There has been little to eat in the home and little in the way of care for the invalid child.

According to information obtained by police, the mother had planned to place the child temporarily in the care of another family in Fourteenth street, but when she took the youngster there Tuesday night, the family would not assume the responsibility. It was after this, authorities said, that the woman went to the home of Mrs. Bell who has endeavored to take care of the child during the short time it has been in her care.

SUNDAY PROGRAM AT YELLOW CREEK

Usual services will be held Sunday in the Yellow Creek Presbyterian church with preaching by the pastor, the Rev. J. K. Stewart, at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. Young people will meet at 7:30 p. m. The subject will be "What Can We Do To Help Improve Our Community?" The leaders will be Margaret Campbell and Charles McIntosh.

FOUR BREAKS IN WATER MAIN

Third Fixed Yesterday; Another Found Near "Iron Bridge."

As a result of four consecutive breaks in the 18 inch water main from the reservoir to the city, Wellsville's service department forces have been concentrating their attention almost exclusively in the Little Yellow Creek district for the last 10 days.

The third break in the main was discovered yesterday morning on the Hammond farm above what is known as the "stone house," about two miles from the city. One section of 12-foot pipe was cracked for a distance of 10 feet. It was necessary to shut off the city's supply of water again and install another section of pipe and a sleeve. Water service was resumed last night at 9 o'clock.

Today a further inspection of the main by the service department revealed a fourth break, located near the "iron bridge," at the third mill-dam. This time the break is in the creek bed itself, the discovery being made as workmen saw a flow of water bubbling upward from the bottom of the creek. The extent of the break here had not been determined at noon. The first step in the repair work will be the changing of the course of the creek so that workmen can get at the pipe.

Irrespective of the extent of the break, water will not be shut off, if that is necessary, until Sunday, Mayor Wallace Fogo said today.

Fire at Fitzgerald Home.

Fire department was called to the E. J. Fitzgerald home, corner of Sixth and Broadway, at 10 o'clock this morning. Flames coming from a hot plate ignited portions of the woodwork in the kitchen but were extinguished with little damage.

WOMEN TO BOLT SMITH, WIFE OF DEM CHIEF SAYS

Mrs. Clem L. Shaver Raps Governor as Wet.

ROBINSON HIT

Statement Adds Al Should Have Declined Nomination.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—Millions of Democratic women will bolt the party this November because a wet, Governor Al Smith of New York, was nominated at Houston, Mrs. Clem L. Shaver, of West Virginia, wife of the retiring chairman of the Democratic national committee, declared in a statement today.

She is one of the leaders of the National Woman's Democratic Law Enforcement league, which campaigned at Houston for a dry.

Criticizes Gov. Moody.

She criticized such Democratic leaders as Gov. Dan Moody of Texas, former Secretary of the Navy Joseph Daniels, Senator Carter Glass of Virginia, vice presidential nominee, for announcing their support of Smith. If Gov. Smith had been "honest and sincere," she added, he would have declined the nomination on a dry platform.

Her statement, in part, follows:

"Regardless of what Democratic leaders from top to bottom may do, we dry Democratic women will not support the dripping wet ticket and the joke platform named by the Tammany delegates to the recent convention at Houston.

Uses Term "Booze-o-Crat." "We say a man who will shut his eyes like an ostrich to the things which the Democratic party has always stood for is a 'booze-o-crat,' not a Democrat."

"The Democratic nominee has always said in his public utterances that the party should make the platform and the candidate should stand on it. He has always said that his one outstanding issue is whiskey and booze—the return of the legalized liquor traffic, which means the return of the licensed saloon. Every politician knows it. And when the party adopted a 'dry' platform, if the nominee had been either honest or sincere in his public utterances, he could have done nothing but decline the nomination. He did not and therefore stamped himself as a charlatan and a faker who is attempting to prove that Lincoln was wrong and that you can fool all of the people all of the time."

Welcome "Girl Lindy"

audience by Whalen. Miss Earhart spoke less than a minute.

"This is the most glorious reception I have ever had," she said. "There were many receptions for us in Europe but I appreciate this even more. I think. Those hours we spent above the Atlantic were quite worth while. I am glad to be here. Thank you."

Medals were then presented to all three fliers by Acting Mayor Joseph V. McKee. Among those on the platform was Clarence Chamberlin, noted trans-Atlantic flier.

Acting Mayor McKee welcomed the fliers "back to your native land."

He praised each flier individually. Of Miss Earhart, he said:

"Miss Earhart, you have added another achievement to a life already crowded with usefulness to humanity. You had a 'well done' by your business acumen, your accomplishments as a student and your untiring efforts in philanthropic and social work."

Miss Earhart blushed as McKee made these statements.

After the reception at City hall the fliers went to the Baltimore hotel where they attended a luncheon given in their honor by Commander Byrd.

Boston to Honor Miss Earhart. BOSTON, July 6.—When Miss Amelia Earhart arrives home Monday she will learn she has become president of the Boston chapter of the National Aeronautic association. The girl flier is the first woman to head the local chapter.

Plans for a welcome to Boston's daughter on Monday were completed.

flight from Rome and setting an aviation distance record. After a rest of an hour and 20 minutes they hopped off again for Rio De Janeiro, about 1,200 miles distant, allowing for coast line detours.

Radio stations on the northeastern coast tried to get into wireless communication with the airmen but failed. It was reported that the Olinda station near Pernambuco had picked up a message from the plane at 3 a. m., but this was officially denied by the state telegraph agency.

Rejoicing Over News.

Finally word came through from Tours that the Italian plane "had been picked up." This left it in doubt as to whether radio communication with the fliers had been re-established or whether the plane had come down.

Following the long hours of suspense there was much rejoicing here over the news that the daring airmen had at last been found.

After hopping off at Genipabu beach, 10 miles north of Natal, last night, the aviators did not fly at once in the direction of Rio. In fact, there was some doubt as to their intentions. The Italians said they were going to look for a better landing field and turned northward.

The radio station on Cape North, which had been trying to get word from the airmen, reported that it had been unable to get any reply.

COOLIDGE MOVIE OPERATOR NAMED ADMIRAL OF BRULE CANOE FLEET

SUPERIOR, Wis., July 6.—A new admiral commands the fleet today—by presidential appointment.

Not the American battle fleet however. Rather, the 20-odd canoes that fill the boat house at Cedar Island Lodge, summer camp of President and Mrs. Coolidge.

Chief Petty Officer Howard Johnson of the U. S. S. Mayflower, is the man so signally honored. Johnson is chief electrician of the presidential yacht, and makes all trips with the Coolidges for the purpose of running the movie machine twice a week.

The president started out fishing this morning and noticed Johnson in his uniform, standing by a river bank.

"Well," said Mr. Coolidge, "a sailor. The only one on the Brule river too. I guess I'll make you admiral of the fleet."

And so Johnson got his appointment. When he isn't busy with his movie machine he scrubs out the canoes, and generally otherwise keeps his hand in at the business of sailing.

BLAME GUNMEN IN YALE DEATH

Chicagoans Sought for New York Murder.

NEW YORK, July 6.—Chicago gunmen were definitely linked today with the murder of Frankie Yale.

The murder car, abandoned a few hours after the Brooklyn gangster king was riddled with machine gun bullets, was in Chicago about a week ago, police learned.

They learned too, that the man who bought the automobile in Tennessee was in Chicago at the same time and that he was seen in New York with the car last Sunday, the day Yale met his death.

HELEN WILLS, HUNTER DEFEATED

WIMBLEDON, England, July 6.—Miss Helen Wills and Francis T. Hunter, of the United States, were eliminated in the semi-finals of the mixed doubles in the British lawn tennis championship tournament this afternoon when they were defeated by Miss Elizabeth Ryan of California and P. D. Spence of South Africa, 4-6, 6-4, 6-3.

plea of sickness in order to obtain a continuance of the trial made yesterday morning was a "hoax."

"Give me but a few hours more," the attorney requested of the court, "and I think I can end this case." Bevan then outlined all of his findings with relation to Hoppe.

At the conclusion of Bevan's argument, Judge Milroy observed that he considered the case "too big for any one man to handle," and summoned Common Pleas Judge James Martin and Judge James Austin, also of common pleas court, branch of domestic relations, to confer with him regarding the case.

Milliron will start work next Monday. His job will be completed before the opening of the football practice season. The fence will also be erected before the first gridiron game, scheduled for September 29.

Two Appointments Made

Upon recommendation of Superintendent of Schools C. S. McVay, the board named J. M. Schultz, Zanesville, as a member of the ceramic school faculty. Schultz, who is said to have a wide experience in the general ware, electric porcelain, tile and other branches of the ceramic industry, has been working for the American Acoustic Tile company, Zanesville. He formerly worked in a general ware plant at Cambridge. Schultz will teach the practical side of the ceramic industry, while Paul R. Kelly has been retained for the technical phase of the course.

Miss Dorothy Calcott, teacher in the elementary schools for about two years has been named clerk in the office of Superintendent C. S. McVay, to succeed Mrs. Albert Reid, nee Mary Allison. Miss Calcott is a graduate of the commercial training class of Ohio university, Athens.

Four Paint Jobs Awarded

Four inside painting jobs have been awarded, Central and McKinley schools to T. F. Pepin and Leonard Smith. Here are the figures:

J. T. Carey—Central, $880; McKinley, $640; Third street $320. Fert McCormack—McKinley, $900; Washington, $650; Central, $1,200; Third street, $475.

James G. Gray—McKinley, $425; Third street, $250; Washington, $435. T. F. Pepin and Leonard Smith—Third street, $160; Washington, $240. Smith & Hindle—McKinley, $425; Third street, $235; Washington, $410; Central, $675.

Peter Milliron was also awarded the contract for the laying of a concrete sidewalk and wall in front of the Third street building.

SUES FOR $1,000 IN MINE FIGHT

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., July 6.—Claiming $1,000 damages as the result of an attack at the McClainsville mine alleged to have been made on his last Monday by Adolph Pacifico, vice president of the East Ohio subdivision of the United Mine Workers, and Nash Folen, an idle mine worker, Frank Velkovich of Bellaire, non-union miner, today had on file a suit against Belmont county which, under the law, is held responsible for the attack.

Filing of the suits marks the eleventh action of this kind since the bituminous coal miners went on strike on April, 1927.

Raskob Funeral Tomorrow.

CENTERSVILLE, Md., July 6.—Funeral services for William F. Raskob, 19-year-old son of John F. Raskob, vice president of the De Pont company, of Wilmington, Del., killed in an automobile accident near here late yesterday, will be held here tomorrow afternoon. The body then will be taken to Wilmington, and interment will be at the Cathedral cemetery in that city.

Columbiana

A number of matters were considered at the regular meeting of the Columbiana board of education Monday evening. John C. Barton of Columbus was hired as teacher of chemistry in the high school. Miss Margaret Wilson, who lives just north of Columbiana on the Canfield road, was engaged to teach seventh and eighth grade work and thus completes the local teaching staff. Miss Wilson recently graduated with honors at the Western Reserve College for Women, Cleveland. The board has decided to departmentalize the seventh and eighth grade work, the three teachers, Miss Willsa Carpenter, Miss Belva Switzer and Miss Wilson each teaching certain subjects in both seventh and eighth grades. The teachers will rotate among the rooms, while the pupils will remain in their own assigned room.

The board also decided that no pupils will be admitted to the first grade in September, whose birthday does not come prior to October 1, 1928. This plan will make one first grade room sufficient for the needs of this school year. Sufficient funds are not available for the hiring of an extra first grade teacher at this time.

New rules for tuition pupils were made at the meeting. In the future, statements will be sent to parents or guardians at the end of every six week period and 30 days will be granted for the payment of this bill. If unpaid at the end of that time, the pupil will be barred from school until the tuition is paid. The board will also not allow any pupil to enter school in September unless all tuition bills for the previous year are paid. These rules do not apply to those pupils whose tuition is paid by various boards of education, but to all pupils whose tuition is paid by parents or guardians.

NO RELIGIOUS ISSUE IN 1928, WORK DECLARES

Republican Campaign Policy Informative and Constructive.

UNITY IS AIM

Leader Urges Stress on Protective Tariff.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—Hubert Work, Republican national chairman, today issued instructions to the members of the Republican national committee to refrain from raising the religious issue in the presidential campaign.

"The campaign policy we propose to follow will be informative and constructive only," said Work in a letter to members of the committee. "The promptings of conscience and personal liberty within the law are not proper subjects for political debate."

"We wish to secure complete unity in our common purpose of good government. The Republican party is interested solely in preserving the foundations of good government administration through our party organization."

Work said one of the outstanding issues of the campaign is the Republican tariff which "protects our workmen from the cheap labor of competing nations." He urged the committee to stress this issue.

"Our people should vote to protect the American payroll. It is our one national asset. We must protect it to maintain our high standards of living."

ASKS INJUNCTION AGAINST BISHOP

COLUMBUS, O., July 6.—Mrs. Ella L. Olmstead, Cleveland, today applied to the Ohio supreme court for an injunction against Joseph Schrembs, bishop of Cleveland, to prevent the holding of religious services on a lot, said to have been purchased by Bishop Schrembs, in the proposed Benjamin Rosa residential subdivision in East boulevard, facing Rockefeller park, Cleveland.

Mrs. Olmstead obtained an injunction in the Cuyahoga county common pleas court, it was stated, but this decree was reversed by the appellate court decision.

A. J. MILLS HEADS OHIO OIL CO.

CLEVELAND, July 6.—A. J. Mills, head of the Ohio Standard Oil company's sales department for five years and more recently a vice president, has been elected president of the company, succeeding W. H. Foster, resigned, the board of directors announced today.

Foster served with the company 51 years.

Kept Baby a Secret

"All my life I've lived like a goldfish in a glass bowl," said Mae Murray, picture star and the wife of Prince David M'Dvani, when questioned about the birth of a baby a year ago. Her husband told reporters that news of the baby was withheld for fear it might affect Miss Murray's career in the films.

GOV. AL SMITH WILL ATTEND RASKOB RITES

New York Governor Goes to Funeral in Maryland.

SON OF FRIEND

Youth Was Killed in Crash of Automobile.

ALBANY, July 6.—Governor Al Smith was to leave Albany at 4 o'clock this afternoon in his private car for Maryland where tomorrow he will attend the funeral of William Raskob, 19-year-old son of John J. Raskob, chairman of the finance board of General Motors corporation.

The governor and the elder Raskob have long been close personal friends, young Raskob was killed yesterday in an automobile accident near Centerville, Maryland, while driving to his father's country home.

Upon his return to Albany tomorrow night the Governor expects to remain at the executive mansion until Tuesday when he will go to hear mountain park to speak at a Boy Scout outing. From there he will continue on to New York for the national committee meeting on the following day.

There is every indication, according to persons close to the governor, that Senator Peter E. Goetel of Rhode Island, will be picked as the new chairman of the national committee.

The governor made it plain he is planning to take a vacation after the national committee meeting.

HOOVER HOPES TO CARRY WET SEABOARD ZONES

Nominee and Eastern Advisers to Meet This Week-end.
EYES ON EAST
Board of Strategy Eyes on Smith's Home Bailiwick.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—A campaign program, by which Herbert Hoover hopes to carry the moist Atlantic seaboard states, will be determined at a series of conferences here this week-end between the Republican presidential nominee and his eastern advisers, it was announced today.

The conferences will evolve a campaign strategy designed to keep New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Connecticut and Rhode Island in the Republican column next November despite Democratic claims that Governor Al Smith will win them due to his "wetness." The Hoover board of strategy appeared particularly hopeful of carrying New York, Smith's home bailiwick.

A decision also will be reached at these conferences fixing the date for notification of Mr. Hoover at his home in Palo Alto, Calif. Once this date is determined, the itinerary of Hoover's trip to the Pacific coast will be settled.

It appeared this morning that the date would be some time between August 4 and August 11 with the probability that it would be one or the other, as both are Saturdays.

With the notification date fixed, the Hoover managers will arrange this trip to the Pacific coast, including a stop-over at Brule, Wis., for a conference with President Coolidge. One of his closest friends declared the secretary would not resign but would "ask to be relieved of his duties." This phraseology would allow the secretary to remain in the cabinet should the president desire his continued services.

There were indications Hoover would depart from Washington about July 16 and reach San Francisco about July 25 or 26.

RAILROAD MEN ACT AGAINST RUM SMUGGLING

Conference is Called for Action Along Canadian Border.

JULY 18 IS DATE
Customs Officials of Two Countries Invited.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—Officials of railroads operating between United States and Canada have been called for a conference on July 18 with Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Seymour Lowman for a checkup on steps taken to prevent smuggling between the two countries.

In announcing the conference today Lowman explained that about a month ago, the entire situation had been laid before the rail executives and customs officials at Buffalo, where an agreement was reached to take drastic action against smugglers.

Because of the dictate of the treasury department for additional regulatory activities in connection with freight and express traffic it was decided at that time to give the railroads an opportunity to work out an anti-smuggling campaign.

Advices to Lowman indicate that such a plan has been devised by the railroad people and that it will be presented at the conference. It is probable that a group of Canadian and American customs officials will sit in. Included in the list of railroads to be represented are the Canadian National, Canadian Pacific, Pere Marquette, New York Central and Delaware and Hudson.

BURY TRAFFIC CRASH VICTIM

Russell Faulkner Services Held in E. Palestine.

Funeral services for Russell Faulkner, 20, East Palestine, who died in the Salem hospital, Wednesday, from injuries sustained in an automobile crash on the East Palestine-Columbianna road were conducted in his home in East Palestine this afternoon. Burial was made in the East Palestine cemetery.

Faulkner was a passenger in a motor car driven by Carl Welch, also of East Palestine, which was struck by another automobile driven by Robert Foster, Petersburg, Welch, Foster and Donald Rafferty, the latter also riding in the Welch machine, were also injured. Forty-two stitches were required to close a gash in Foster's arm.

To complete the South London Twenty-five Churches Fund, the Bishop of Southwark, England, recently sat in Southwark Cathedral for 13 hours continuously.

AWAIT MAJOR TEST OF RADIO BOARD POWERS

Federal Commission Will Revoke 162 Licenses.

FIGHT PROMISED
Small Stations Consolidate With Larger Plants.

WASHINGTON, July 6. — Officials today were preparing for the first major test of the much mooted powers of the federal radio commission. Faced with the necessity of reducing the existing 700 odd broadcasting stations to 550 or less, the commission announced it would refuse to continue later than August 1 the licenses of 162 stations. Those that protest this action must file their protest Monday, later be heard by the commission, and if not change results, carry their case into the courts. They may take the case either to the District of Columbia court of appeals or to the United States supreme court of the district in which the station operates. Lewis G. Caldwell of Chicago, the new legal chief of the radio commission, was building up a staff to fight the battles of the commission. Commission engineers point out that it is possible for out 340 stations to hold broadcasting licenses. A number of smaller stations ordered to discontinue broadcasting by August 1 have consolidated with larger plants. Of the stations expected to file appeals the most prominent are WEVD and WCL, both in New York city. The first is the Eugene Debs Memorial station, the second being operated by the International Broadcasting Co.

CEDAR POINT, O., July 6.—The Ohio State Bar association, at its 45th annual convention, today was to hear Judge Florence E. Allen of the Ohio supreme court speak on "Legal Ethics and Technicalities." Judge Allen was scheduled to address the convention late this afternoon. At Thursday's session of the convention the bar association adopted almost unanimously a report proposing establishment of an interior court system for Ohio. The report was presented by J. A. White of Columbus, chairman of the committee, and urged enactment by the state legislature of a law providing for creation of county courts at county seats to deal with misdemeanor and minor civil cases. The measure would do away with justice of the peace and similar courts, replacing them with a court under the jurisdiction of a qualified attorney. This, it was said, would lessen congestion of cases in common pleas and probate courts. The proposal to revise the criminal code of the state, submitted by Judge T. H. Darby of Cincinnati and his code revision committee, probably will be acted upon today, it was announced. It was generally predicted that it would be adopted, although there was some opposition yesterday to certain phrases.

American Olympic Challenge To Be Flung Down At Cambridge

Yank Threat Revealed In Final Team Tryouts

Hahn After Peltzer's 800-meter Record; New Shot and Pole Vault Marks Expected; Paddock Faces Job Landing Berth

By Davis J. Walsh.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., July 6.—America's challenge will be flung down this afternoon before the eyes of a world justifiably sceptical.

The occasion will be the final tryouts for places on the American Olympic team of 1928.

Given favorable conditions, these tryouts may take on the aspect of a warning of what is to come at Amsterdam.

Lloyd Hahn, for one, was to go out after Peltzer's 800-meter record. He already has beaten the record in running to new world's time in the half mile indoors and, at the eastern tryouts some weeks ago, he got down under 1:53, in spite of a spotty track.

Another record they say is destined to go is the shot put mark, now unofficially credited to a German, John Kuck, the western ajax, is said, variously, to have done 56 and 59 feet in practice, Eastern daylight time.

Any time you get Sabin Carr and Lee Barnes vaulting over the same standard, the record is not long for this life. That goes, too, for any broad jump to which De Hart Hubbard is lending his presence, particularly with Ed Hamm in there to make him do at least 25 feet or take the consequences.

As for the sprinters, Los Angeles recently advertised its race of the century, featuring Paddock, Wykoff, Lombardi and Borah.

The fields are such at 100 and 200 meters that one New York handicapper has gone so far as to leave Paddock out of the money in each, which means off the team for the first time since Charles first attracted international attention in 1919. In fact, even Charles himself need not be very far wrong and still finish behind sprinters like Bracey, Simpson, Wykoff, Russell, Scholtz, Hussey, Cumming, Draper, Lombardi, Winfrey, George, Haynes, Forster, Cockrell and Jimmy Quinn. If Borah and Bowman suddenly come to overnight form, there will be no answering for what might happen to the records in either event or both.

MICHIGAN LAD IS DECATHLON CHAMP

PHILADELPHIA, July 6.—Kenneth Doherty, of New York, University of Michigan student and member of the Cadillac A. C., is the new national champion for the Decathlon and leader of the 1928 Olympic team. He made a total of 7690.52 points in the Olympic tryouts which began Tuesday and wound up yesterday.

Jones Stewart, star performer from Los Angeles, placed second with 7533.25. Barney Berlinger, Giant freshman from Pennsylvania, made third place on the team that will represent the United States in the Amsterdam Olympics. Berlinger took the national pole vault title with 12 feet 8 inches. His point score was 7362.195.

The fourth member of the team will be Thomas Churchill, of the University of Oklahoma, who rolled up a total of 293.20.

PICK CREW FOR AMSTERDAM REGATTA

By Malcolm Roy.

PHILADELPHIA, July 6.—Yale, Columbia, California and Princeton, these are four names to conjure with in the rowing world today, for it is from this select grouping that the crew which will carry Old Glory to the Olympic regatta in Amsterdam next month, will emerge from the crucible of the Schuylkill tomorrow after the bitter battles of the semi-final races today and the finals tomorrow of the 1928 Olympic tryouts.

Each one of the four more than lived up to its fame of rowing greatness in the trial heats held yesterday and two of them, Columbia and Princeton, more than outdid themselves. Just how they will endure their second trial by fire in the semi-finals this afternoon is a matter of conjecture. Almost anything is likely to happen in the two big clashes which bring California and Columbia together in the semi-final and Yale and Princeton in the other.

On past performances Yale and California should win, but this regatta is seeing past performances thrown into the discard right and left.

There was something peculiarly dramatic in Columbia's smashing victory over Harvard yesterday and something of the epic about Princeton's dogged battle with the championship California crew.

Yale's victory in its race with the highly praised but disappointing Wyandotte B. C. crew was expected. The blue rowed in a perfunctory manner to defeat a relatively weak crew.

Tunney isn't going to have any picnic in fifteen rounds with Heeney. Most likely he will get tired of clipping Thomas on his concrete jaw and those last five rounds may be very distressing to him.

Heeney's boxing for the last two days has been better than anything he ever showed in a gymnasium. He has two sparring partners, Paul Swiderski and Jay Lawless.

FISH AND GAME UNIT HOLDS MEET
East Liverpool branch of the Columbiana County Fish and Game Protective association met last night in the Ingram building.

Summer activities and progress on the Guilford state park project were discussed.

At Guilford workmen are understood to be making rapid headway in preliminary operations looking toward the conversion of a large section of the park acreage into a dam.

The site is being cleared of trees and debris of various kinds and workmen are getting ready for the spillway.

Local outboard motor enthusiasts are well pleased with the showing made by the East Liverpool entry in the Class B and C six-mile race held Wednesday at Meyers Lake Park, Canton, under auspices of the Ohio Outboard association.

"Bad News," a seven horsepower craft owned by O. E. Greenawald and Dick McKee, and piloted by the latter, placed fourth in the money in the race despite the fact that the motor is comparatively new and stiff and that the competition was of an experienced nature. Nine entries in all started.

Purse of $100 was divided among the four places, the winner taking $50; second, $25; third, $15, and fourth, $10.

J. L. Zimmerman of Youngstown went under the flag as winner; L. Pefek of Cleveland was second; and Alvin Wisler, Youngstown, fourth. These three crafts were propelled by 12 horsepower motors, which gave them something of an advantage to begin with over the local seven-horsepower entry.

The time was 14 minutes and 59 seconds for the six laps around the lake, or an average speed of 25 miles an hour.

Eastern Clubs on Invasion

Western Rivals Facing Chance to Gain Ground.

By Les Conklin.

NEW YORK, July 6.—Sensing a golden opportunity to gain ground in the next seven weeks, the western club in the National league today welcomed the eastern invading teams with open arms. The western outfits have been cut-throating each other all over the lot for quite a spell and as a result haven't been going anywhere in particular. Now they can feast on the faltering Braves and Phillies while New York and Brooklyn are struggling to get an even break.

Although the Giants have won nine of their last ten starts, they face an almost impossible task in overhauling the Cardinals. Under this year's freak schedule, the McGrawian maulers must bang away at the four powerful western teams from now until August 26, with the exception of two games with the Phillies. The eastern clubs must go west, return east and then do another Horace Greeley.

The St. Louis Browns, strongest of the western clubs in the American league, play the New York Yankees six games in four days.

In the only game played yesterday, the Athletics blanked the Red Sox, 5 to 0.

TUNNEY HAS HIS WORKOUTS EARLY

SPECULATOR, N. Y., July 6.—To avoid getting a painful coat of sunburn, Gene Tunney is working out with his sparring partners early in the morning. He plans to take his road workouts in the cool of the evening.

Yesterday the heavyweight champion sparred three rounds each with Harold Mays and Billy Vidabeck.

HICKMAN FATE
SEALED, BUT HE IS UNMOVEDKidnaper-slayer's Only
Hope is U. S.
Court.

SLEEPS SOUNDLY

Condemned Youth Probably will Hang in October.SAN FRANCISCO, July 6.—That William Edward Hickman's case may never be reviewed by the United States supreme court, is an existent possibility, according to E. Grant Taylor, clerk of the state supreme court of California."Such an appeal," said Taylor today, "can be taken only with the consent of the state supreme court or the permission of the United States supreme court."If both courts refuse, Hickman's fate, as sealed by the state supreme court yesterday, when that body denied Hickman's appeals from the court which sentenced him, will be final.Hickman's attorneys have announced they would appeal the case to the highest court in the land, in default of action by that court, the confessed kidnaper-slayer of Marion Parker, Los Angeles school girl, will probably mount the gallows at San Quentin prison about the middle of October.Apparently unperturbed by the reverse decision, Hickman, according to prison officials, slept soundly last night in his cell in "condemned row."NEW YORK, July 6.—Urban Shoker, who won 18 games for the Yankees last season, was given his unconditional release by Miller Huggins today. Poor health and a failure to round into the condition which gave him ranking as one of the best pitchers in the game, caused his passing from the diamond picture.Shocker pitched only two innings for the Huggins team.SEIFERT KAYOED
BY OTTO PORATCHICAGO, July 6.—Otto Von Porat, Norway's fluctuating heavyweight, was once more on the rise in the stock market today following his sensational victory last night over Sandy Seifert of Pittsburgh.The Norwegian was awarded a technical knockout over the Pittsburgher in the fourth round of a scheduled ten-round bout. He had Seifert down for the count of nine in the session he lost. Thus Seifert can no longer boast that he has never been knocked out by his foe.down 1/2 to 1; corn 3/4 lower to 1/2

Establish 17 State Child Health Centers

All But Five of West Virginia's 55 Counties Conduct Maternity and Infancy Work, Report Shows.

West Virginia, with 17 new permanent child health centers, is one of the five states which established the largest number of such centers during the fiscal year, according to the annual report of the administration of the maternity and infancy act, soon to be issued by the children's bureau of the United States department of labor.

fancy work since the state's acceptance of the Sheppard-Towner act in 1922, the report states. During the fiscal year work was carried out in 47 counties and reached 27,100 infants and preschool children.

Outstanding accomplishments included 614 child health conferences and 44 prenatal conferences by physicians, and 29 dental conferences, at which approximately 100 prospective mothers and 400 preschool children received advice.

Nurses conducted 238 conferences, at which approximately 200 prospective mothers were instructed in prenatal care and more than 400 infants and preschool children were inspected. Nurses made more than 12,700 home visits—approximately 1,700 to prospective mothers, nearly 2,300 to obstetrical and postnatal cases, and more than 8,800 to infants and preschool children. Instruction was given in maternal, infant, and child care. The nurses also gave a total of 546 demonstrations on various phases of maternal, infant and child care to groups, 8 being to large groups of farm women from all parts of the state.

Eighty-two little mothers' classes for instruction in infant and child care were conducted, and 1,300 girls were enrolled.

Forty-two mothers' classes were conducted, in which more than 1,200 mothers received instruction. Some of these classes were continuous.

Health surveys were conducted in 15 commonwealths by local groups under the direction of staff nurses or county nurses, and the data obtained formed the basis for considerable effective program planning.

Four campaigns were conducted during the year—one for state-wide examination of preschool children and correction of their defects before they should enter school; one for a clean milk supply; one for general clean-up improved sanitation, safe milk and water supply, and elimination of flies, in 15 counties; and one for immunization against diphtheria, typhoid fever, and smallpox, in 13 counties. Efforts to promote the more accurate reporting of births and deaths were continued, the vital-statistics worker having interviewed registrars, physicians, midwives, and undertakers in this connection.

The division of child hygiene and public health nursing gave advisory service to many local organizations. As a result of the division's work local public-health nurses not paid from maternity and infancy funds included in their work many activities promoting maternal and infant hygiene.

The division's work had the cooperation of the state department of education, State university, State tuberculosis association, State public health association, State league of women voters, State federation of women's clubs, American Red Cross, and the parent-teacher association.

TWO MEN PAY DEATH PENALTY

Negroes Electrocuted for Murder of Policeman.

COLUMBUS, O., July 6.—The bodies of W. H. Wilson, 19, and James Coleman, 18, Negroes, who paid the supreme penalty in the death chair at Ohio penitentiary here last night for the murder of Patrolman Paul Frederick, of Portsmouth, on Feb. 3 last, were being held unclaimed at a morgue here today.

Wilson, dalm and gaunited, walked to the chair and was pronounced dead at 9:08 p. m. Coleman, in a state of collapse, followed him three minutes later and was pronounced dead at 9:21 p. m.

RULE "ACCIDENT" IN BANKER DEATH

DUNKIRK, France, July 6.—That the mysterious circumstances surrounding the death of Capt. Alfred Loewenstein, world-famous banker and financier, will probably never be known and that a verdict of "death by accident" will be handed down by officials investigating the tragedy was indicated today.

GLOBE-GIRDERS REACH BERLIN

BERLIN, July 6.—John Henry Mears and Capt. Charles Collier, American globe girders who set out from New York to make a round-the-world trip by plane and steamship within 23 days, arrived here at 9:03 a. m. today, after a delay caused by fog over the Hatz mountains.

Chess Game With Living Men Planned For Schubert Week

VIENNA.—A chess game with living chessmen will take place in Vienna during the festivities commemorating the hundredth anniversary of Frank Schubert's death.

On the famous Krieger trotting course a giant chessboard has been erected. The game will be a bizarre mixture of a historical parade and real chess and will be conducted by renowned chess players and theatrical managers.

The costumes selected are from 1883, in which year Vienna was besieged by the Turks. The white King will impersonate Count Ruediger Starhemberg, the defender of the Austrian capital, and the black king will be the leader of the Turkish army, the "Terrible" Kara Mustapha.

"Leave your dog in the cloak room," reads a sign in a Paris motion picture theatre, the management having arranged a sound-proof room for pets.

South Africa's attempts to revive triangular shaped stamps by using them in sheets that had to be cut with scissors, have failed.

Ulster Constabulary
Has Real Baronet
Serving in Ranks
BELFAST.—The Royal Ulster Constabulary is probably the only police force in the world with a baronet serving in the ranks.

He is Sergeant Sir John Echlin, who is in charge of the police barracks at Enniskillen, and head of one of the oldest families in Ireland. He draws $30 a week pay, and apparently is quite content. The Echlin estates have long been encumbered, and Sir John's great grandfather was probably the last of the family to derive any financial benefit from them. Wild ancestors, it is stated, dissipated the family fortunes. The fifth and sixth baronets were forced to work as hired hands, and the eighth baronet, Sir John's uncle, kept an English inn.

ESTHER RALSTON SCORES TRIUMPH

When Esther Ralston gives herself to interpreting a part, the audience is assured of a faithful and absorbing interpretation. The large audience at the Ceramic theatre last night remained bound by her spell as she depicted the life, the mannerisms and emotions of the pleasure-mad girl, the heroine of her latest starring picture for Paramount, "Half a Bride."

The picture is a timely discussion of companionate marriage and the irresponsible flights of wealthy American youth. It is filled with interest of characterization and locale, splendidly acted and well thought out.

The story deals with a girl who, at 21, has tasted all the thrills which life can hold. As a final gasp she enters into a marriage with the companion of an evening, inspired by a mad impulse and a lecture on companionate marriage. Her father breaks up the ill-advised union by kidnapping her and taking her on a long sea voyage aboard his yacht.

She escapes from the yacht in a launch but the young captain of the yacht jumps overboard after her. A storm arises and they are cast ashore on a deserted island where the girl learns to work and love.

Paramount has seized upon a timely subject in this theme of companionate marriage and has produced an excellently made, well directed, superbly acted moving picture which is one hundred per cent entertaining. It presents a favorite star in a new and advantageous light.

BILLIE DOVE AT AMERICAN

"American Beauty" is all that the name implies.

Which means that the picture of that name at the American theatre has beautiful Billie Dove, who richly deserves the title, in the starring role, a capable cast of supporting players and an excellent story in which an abundance of comedy and touches of drama and pathos are intermingled with skill and adroitness.

Adapted from a short story of the same name by Wallace Irwin, "American Beauty" is the whimsical story of a beautiful girl who has no money but conceals the fact behind a screen of pretense in order to catch a millionaire for a husband. When she finally has the millionaire in her net, of course, she discovers he isn't such a catch after all.

Lloyd Hughes lends his pleasant personality and masculine handsomeness to the leading role opposite Miss Dove. Walter McGrath, as the millionaire, gives a finished performance and Lucien Prival, a comparative newcomer to the screen, stands out in a comedy role of unusual nature. Margaret Livingston, Al St. John, Elythe Chapman, Alice White, Yola d'Avril, Loretta Young and others are in support.

Leetonia

Mrs. Mahlon McDavitt entertained the Aid society of the Methodist church on Tuesday evening.

The program at the meeting of the Kiwanis club meeting Tuesday was of a patriotic nature in charge of T. R. Cunningham, Wilbur S. Mellinger, Ross Mellinger and James S. Hall, all World war veterans. The speaker was Patrick Brennan of Warren, also an ex-soldier of the World war and secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of Warren.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde R. Shontz, Miss Eleanor Ashley, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Groener and granddaughters, Dorothy and Frances May Shontz and the Misses Frances and Margaret Tittler visited Wednesday at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Donald D. Shontz in Massillon.

Mr. and Mrs. George Ferguson and son George of Warren were guests in the home of the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Brillhart on Tuesday. Miss Margaret Brillhart returned home with them.

TROTSKY GOES TO SANITARIUM

Exiled Leader of Communists Leaves Alma Alta.

MOSCOW, July 6.—Leon Trotsky, exiled leader of the dwindling "opposition faction" in the Communist party, has been removed from Alma Alta to a mineral springs resort in the North Caucasus. It was learned here today. He is taking the baths in a small sanatorium, but whether his health has taken a turn for the worse is not known. The soviet officials kept secret the name of the village. When Trotsky was deported from Moscow last winter he was suffering from tuberculosis, but was understood to have improved after reaching the warmer climate in Turkestan. However, when summer set in the heat became so intense that Trotsky could not stand it and asked to be transferred, at least temporarily.

German Air Field Establishes New Record During May

BERLIN.—A total of 4,824 passengers arrived at or departed from the Tempelhof airport in May, and 2,340 airplanes landed at or left from the port—an average of more than 70 a day. More than 161½ tons of freight, baggage and mail matter were carried.

Between 25 and 50 retail distributors who had licenses last year, have so far failed to make application for the new permits.

STUDEBAKER CAR IS BEAUTY

Addition of Many New Features is Announced.

Announcement of the addition of many new features of beauty and refinement to Studebaker's line of world's champion automobiles are made here today by R. A. Bryan Motor Company, local Studebaker and Erskine dealer. Concurrent with the announcement, the new automobiles were revealed to the people of this city in the Studebaker-Erskine showrooms in the Windland building, Minerva and Walnut streets.

The new cloak of beauty that Studebaker designers have given these cars, encompasses each individual line of Studebaker's quartet of champions—The President Eight—which is offered at a new low price; The world's champion Commander; The Dictator; and The Erskine Six. There is a variety of body types and color combinations which will win favorable applause and fit the taste, temperament and treasury of any motorist, masculine or feminine.

"Studebaker-built cars having demonstrated their speed and stamina by winning every official speed and endurance record for fully equipped stock cars, Studebaker determined to match the outstanding performance qualities with beauty of design which would be equally pre-eminent," said R. D. Bryan, "I believe every motorist will be pleased by these new automobiles."

The fleet, untiring performance of these new Studebakers, is suggested by low, sweeping bodies, accentuated by deeply crowned fenders, swung low over the wheels. Top lines are low and graceful, terminating in a jaunty "Polo Cap" visor of new design. Radiators of a new design are deep and narrow with a wide shell finished in tarnish-proof chromium plating. The flat type radiator cap carries winged motif of championship speed, a motif which is repeated in the massive headlamps and sidelights. Headlamps, cowl beading, sidelights and other "bright surfaces" are finished in chromium.

Even in such details as hubcaps, conventional design has been warded aside. They are larger and finished in chromium. A distinguishing addition to all of the new models is the emblem between the headlamps—a graceful figure "8" on The President, a small globe medallion on the world champion Commander and a script "S" on The Dictator models. Erskines carry the letter "E" in an oval.

Color combinations embody many of the latest shades sponsored by fashion authorities, with distinctive Studebaker touches such as antique treatment of contrasting body panels. Autumn Brown, Deauville Sand, Duskblu, Brandy, Suede Gray, Damsen Plum, and Spirea Green are among the colors used. Body panels are antiqued in Ivory. Deauville Sand, Dauphin Red and other attractive shades. Delicate pin-striping adds to the effect of the body panels.

FIRST SHOWING OF FOUR LINES OF NEW CARS

Irresistible feminine appeal has been added to masculine power in The President, The Commander, The Dictator and The Erskine.

Beauty—Here are delightful new colors from which to choose—Duskblu, Deauville Sand, Sable, Fawn, Antelope Tan and Dauphin Red—with just a dash of antique cunning in the finish of interior door panels and exterior body belt. Smartest of upholstery fabrics—broadcloth, mohair, whipcord and plush—in harmonizing shades.

Charm—Here are alluring new features to increase your pride of possession—handsome winged headlamps—flat radiator cap with the same wing motif—slender, graceful radiator design—all in glistening tarnish-proof chromium—jaunty "polo cap"

visor—gleaming silvered hardware—colorful onyx top for gear lever and horn button.

Comfort—Seats of new design—full cushioned, form fitting lounges—steering wheel (adjustable to your particular needs) responds to your will rather than your muscles—ball-bearing spring shackles give riding ease hitherto unapproached in the most expensive cars—hydraulic shock absorbers—super-brakes which stop the car smoothly, gently in half the distance prescribed as standard.

These are the cars women have been hoping for—spirited, beautiful, safe, comfortable. Worthy to hold every official stamina and speed record for fully equipped stock cars. Luxury and good taste at One-Price profits.

The Great Independent

FIRST SHOWING OF FOUR LINES OF NEW CARS

Irresistible feminine appeal has been added to masculine power in The President, The Commander, The Dictator and The Erskine.

Beauty—Here are delightful new colors from which to choose—Duskblu, Deauville Sand, Sable, Fawn, Antelope Tan and Dauphin Red—with just a dash of antique cunning in the finish of interior door panels and exterior body belt. Smartest of upholstery fabrics—broadcloth, mohair, whipcord and plush—in harmonizing shades.

Charm—Here are alluring new features to increase your pride of possession—handsome winged headlamps—flat radiator cap with the same wing motif—slender, graceful radiator design—all in glistening tarnish-proof chromium—jaunty "polo cap"

visor—gleaming silvered hardware—colorful onyx top for gear lever and horn button.

Comfort—Seats of new design—full cushioned, form fitting lounges—steering wheel (adjustable to your particular needs) responds to your will rather than your muscles—ball-bearing spring shackles give riding ease hitherto unapproached in the most expensive cars—hydraulic shock absorbers—super-brakes which stop the car smoothly, gently in half the distance prescribed as standard.

These are the cars women have been hoping for—spirited, beautiful, safe, comfortable. Worthy to hold every official stamina and speed record for fully equipped stock cars. Luxury and good taste at One-Price profits.

The Constant Flame

Narrative of Love and Struggle Against Temptations

By WINIFRED VAN DUZER

"It's only—of course you know what it would do to my work if this became public. Tomorrow and his cut-throat—your believe I'm honest in my work? That it's unselfish? I'd like you to think so."

She thrilled to the old pride in this boy, pleading for her approval. "do think so. I've been so—so proud of you, Kent." And the gray eyes misted as they looked into his.

He put his hand over hers where it lay on the cushion giving it a quick, firm pressure. "Bless you," he said. They went over the grounds and the veranda and the private dining room at the Inn thoroughly, endlessly. But they found little; only two objects which might have a bearing on the case.

Caught in the edge of the shutter at the window on the veranda they found a shred of lace; a few fine black silk threads of unusual quality. Kent laid it carefully away in his bill fold.

And almost under the window where two boards left a shallow crevice in the floor they discovered what at first seemed to be a small golden splinter. Examination disclosed it a dagger, not more than half an inch long, formed of some tough, yellow substance. This too, Kent put away.

"It's been frightful for you, Emily." They were leaving when he said that. "You know I'd save you if I could? And now I let you go on bearing all the murder."

"Oh, please!" But there was a shining in her heart. Years since she had felt that light, the shining in her veins. Almost it was, as if the games of Just Pretend that ever she played in her life were coming true.

He drew up before the Wickert house on South River Road. "Pay a call on the widow," he remarked. She followed him to the door.

A gloomy-faced butler showed them into the drawing room, a great, dim apartment with drawn shades. They waited a long time for the former Spanish dancer.

Emily thought she never had seen a face so colorless, nor eyes so bright, nor a figure so graceful under a lace mantilla, when the woman came in. Kent asked a question or two but Bianca answered wildly, quivering from head to foot she burst into a tirade against the dead man. Finally she began to move swiftly about, making frantic, demented gestures.

It was when Kent inquired if she had seen Nicky the night of the murder that she hurled herself from the room.

In the door, however, she turned about and said something in Spanish, jerking her head. A tall comb slipped from her hair; after she had gone Emily picked it up from the rug. Not until they were in the car again did she realize that she still carried it.

"Take it back later," Kent said. "I'll want to see her again."

He dropped Emily at the shop and she told him good-bye rather absently, eyes on the comb.

Once inside she became lively enough. With a great burst of energy she pulled a dusty volume from a shelf and searched the pages. When she found what she sought her elbows went up on the table and her chin down on her hands. She studied an old color print very carefully.

It was a plate of Spanish combs. And one of the pictures was almost a photographic likeness of the comb that lay beside it on the table, shimmering in a dull, yellow way.

CHAPTER 52

When Emily put the volume aside, her face was dashed with excited color and little shivers kept creeping along her spine.

She went at once to the telephone and called the District Attorney's office.

"Kent," she said, "I think I've found something. If I could see you now?"

But he was going over to Novel City and couldn't wait. He went on quickly. "I've an errand at the Yacht Club later. Why not dine with me there?"

She accepted eagerly enough, though later shyness overwhelmed her at the thought of dining at the Yacht Club with Kent. She'd have called him and broken the engagement then, had it been possible.

At least, she told herself, she could go home and put on another dress; not shame him by the little old blue one all splashed with dye she now wore.

She was choosing another work dress when pale gold flounces caught her eyes from the back of the closet. She took down the frock she had been saving such a long time. So dainty and sweet it was, such a shewn it put in her hair that she couldn't resist it. She looked very much like a pale, yellow rose when she met Kent at the club.

He was waiting for her in the lounge, a certain restlessness in his face which changed to admiration as he came forward.

"How beautiful you are, Emily. Exquisite as a song." She flushed and kept her head down, fearful of the joy flooding into her heart.

When they were seated he got out the minute yellow dagger and the shred of lace and placed them side by side on the table. "Now let's hear what you have," he said.

She felt again the little shivers along her spine, the sudden, breathless excitement which had gripped her earlier in the day.

"I think Mrs. Wickert shot him," she declared, trying to keep her voice even. "Anyway, I'm sure she was there."

He did not seem surprised. But she saw the blue eyes narrow. From her hand bag she took Bianca's comb and placed it on the table. The comb was heavy, yellow tortoise shell, so hard and polished as to look like gold. And the curious design of the carvings centered about three medallions, each shot through with a small dagger.

"You see, Kent? The dagger is part of it. The comb may have dropped out of her hair as she stood there watching Nicky through the window, and that bit broke off."

"When she stooped for it the lace mantilla she wears caught on the shutter and those threads were torn away. You see I know something about fabrics and I believe that genuine Spanish lace. You seldom find it in America, not as fine as that. Unless it's brought over by someone like her."

She saw his amazement. "You don't think it possible?"

"Of course it's possible. Clever reasoning. But there's no break in the comb."

"That's the only thing I can't account for. You see it's an antique, really, and there ought to be a row of little daggers at the top. Like this." She brought the color print from her bag and spread it before him, pointing to the picture of the comb as it should be.

He studied the picture, held the comb under the table light and studied that. In the end he ran his knife along the shining edge of tortoise shell. Emily suppressed a cry as yellow flakes scaled off.

"Lacquer," he said, laconically. "There are little rough places on the edge. Breaks. You were right; there should be a row of daggers. Not only that; there was a row."

"But—"

"It would have been simpler for her to have destroyed the comb. But there may have been a number of reasons why she didn't wish to. Sentiment, maybe, or its value. So she filed off the daggers and covered the breaks with lacquer."

"Then—" Vivid with earnestness she leaned toward him. "Then we can have her arrested? Tonight? Prove she was there? It's all settled, isn't it?"

The shake of his head chilled her. "More to be done, you know. Don't look like that; it's a matter of a week or so. Keep your heart high, Emily."

They were interrupted here by a big fellow in the uniform of a club employee. He slithered in and stood at Kent's elbow.

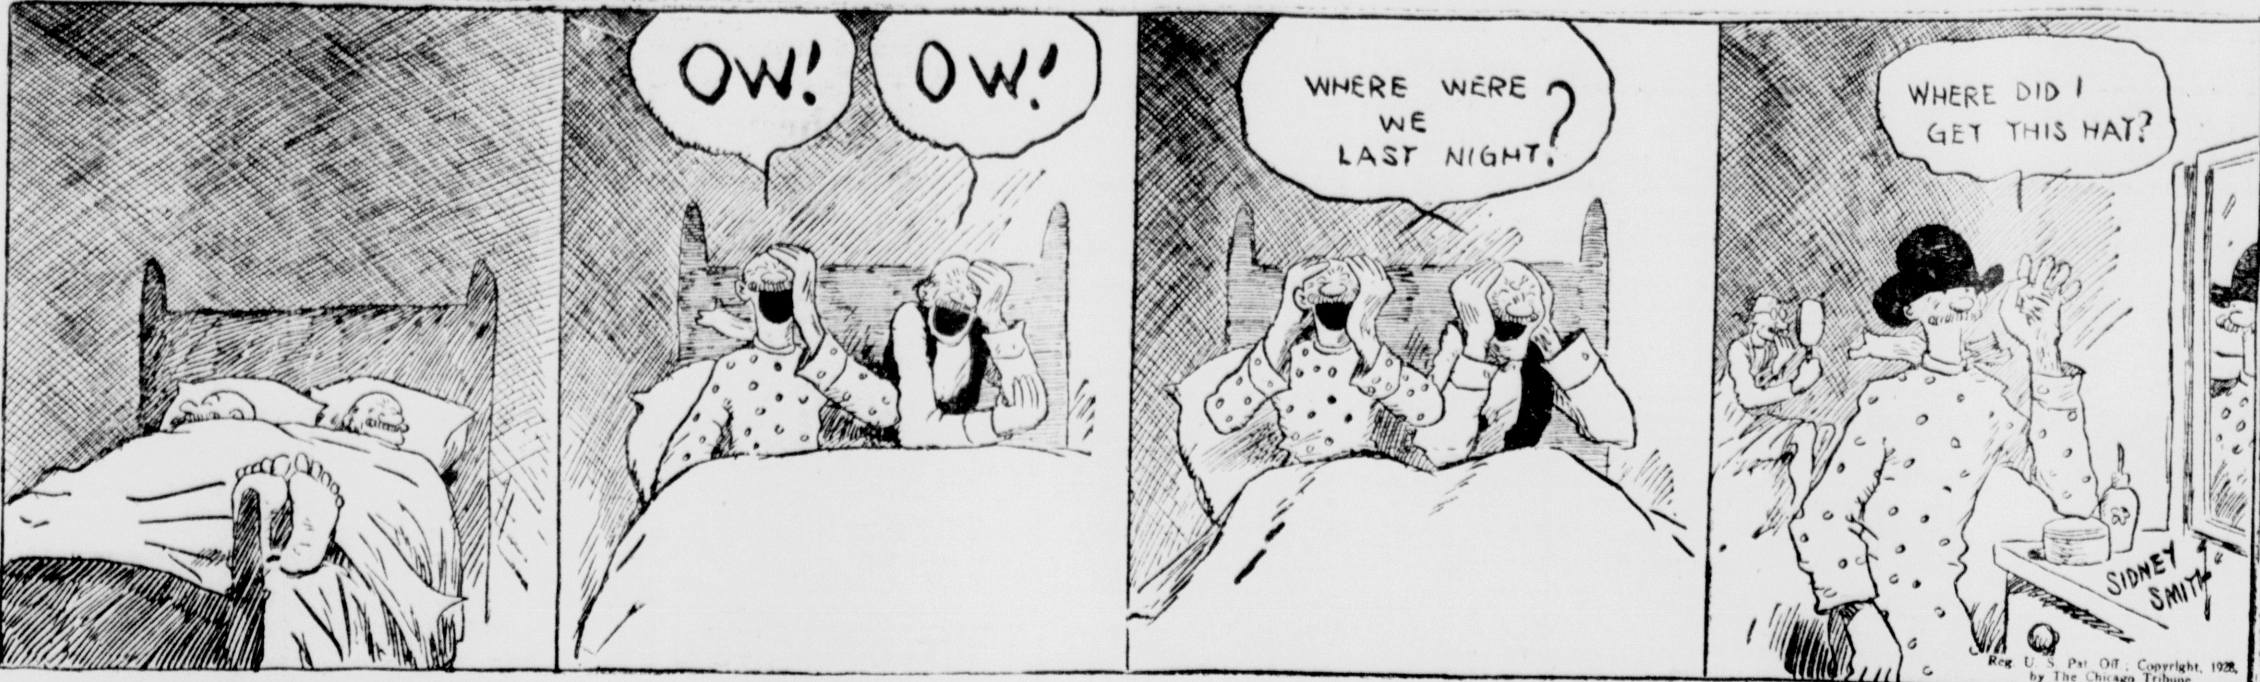

"The steward said you wanted to see me, Mr. Rooster?"

"Yes, Joe. Do you remember the night Mrs. Wickert came here and tried to shoot her husband?"

"I'll say I do. It was me who dragged her out the back way and screechin' like mad. Why wouldn't I remember when she bit my finger half off? She's a hell-cat, that dame."

Bob Fisher Heads 17-day
Aerial Feature at Rock Springs.

The Five Fearless Fliers, an aerial act, featuring three men and two women, will open a 17-day engagement at Rock Springs park tonight.

The act is headed by Bob Fisher, who blindfolded, completed a double somersault in midair. He is said to be the only person who has accomplished this feat.

The feature will be presented twice daily at 4:30 and 8:30 o'clock on the large stage between the merry-go-round and the arcade. The engagement will close Sunday, July 22.

This act will be followed by Pussner, noted aerial performer, whose engagement opens Monday, July 23, and closes August 5.

A number of picnics have been booked for the next two weeks. The annual outing of the Weirton and Hollidays Cove Sunday schools will be held next Saturday while the New Brighton American Legion community picnic is scheduled for July 18. The Imperial, Pa., community picnic, which includes a half dozen communities in the Montour valley, has been booked for July 19 and the Weirton community picnic will be held on the following day, July 20.

Emerson Gill and his Cleveland radio orchestra, will play at Virginia Gardens for the dance Thursday, July 12. This is in keeping with the plan of the park management to bring one visiting orchestra to the resort every week.

To facilitate night bathing a system of high powered electric lights has been installed at Crystal pool. Two large reflector lights have been placed in position, one on the roof of the bathhouse and the other at the south end of the pool. These reflectors are in addition to the smaller lights which hang directly over the water, flooding the pool with light.

NEW CHRYSLERS ARE LUXURIOUS

Fleetness and Nimbleness Emphasized in Every Detail.

Chrysler announces today in its new "65" and "75" the most artistic and distinctive, most radical, daring and stylish, and the most luxurious cars it has ever built at or near their prices. They are also the largest, fastest, most graceful and most comfortable, as well as the smoothest and quietest at every speed. Fleetness and nimbleness are emphasized in every detail.

J. W. Kruzer, Chrysler sales manager, in announcing these two new models, as well as the Chrysler and Plymouth—discussed elsewhere in this issue—points out that "Walter P. Chrysler and his associates have overwhelmingly more attractive. The style is insistent and insatiable. Scientifically designed to be both stylish and beautiful they possess the finest and most symmetrical body designs of any car Chrysler has ever built, for this reason:

Starting with the known fact that the oval offers the latest visual resistance, careful study has been devoted to the Greek theory of dynamic symmetry which is, in part, that all lines should be placed in sympathetic and harmonious relationship one with another. With that knowledge, a sequence of lines, arcs and tangents has been evolved by Chrysler designers whereby one flows into another without a break. All circles are concentric, with all arcs parallel either to smaller or larger arcs. From the front end to rear end of each car all lines, arcs and tangents flow one into another. The result is a co-ordination of the cars' visual picture that is absolute—a result of motor car beauty and symmetry never before achieved.
